ATTRACTING ATTENTION

"Billey" Blodgett Says Rush County Fair is One of Indiana's Best.

No Pool Selling on Grounds Something About Rush County's Horse History.

Billy Blodgett, staff correspondent for the Indianapolis News, slipped in here yesterday and then out again, leaving the following trail in Tuesday night's News:

The Rush county fair which began today is attracting almost as much attention as the late postoffice fight in Rushville. The difference is that when the fair is over the citizens will be sorry and will begin preparing for the next year. The postoffice fight will never end even though the appointment is recommended, and the citizens hope that it will never happen again.

There are magnificent farms in Rush county and this year's crop is one of the biggest in the county's history. Consequently the farmers are all glad and have plenty of time to take a day off and visit the fair. In fact, some of them will take several days off and spend the time at the fair, for there is so much to be seen here it can not be thoroughly done in one day.

The farmers bring their products in and place them on exhibition regardless of expense. They appear to take a great pride in the fair and get up the exhibits with care. The poultry display is exceptionally good, and the live stock is shown to greater advantage than ever. Rush county, in addition to its politicians, is especially noted for its fine horses and some of the fastest steppers in the country were raised on Rush county stock farms. And that is one of the reasons the race at the Rush county fair are always so interesting.

Twenty years ago this was the greatest horse county in the world, and the fairs given here were models for the State fair. In this city dozens of the high-wheeled sulky and old-time drivers, the "Blue Bull," the "Legal Tender," and the "Pocahontas" families of horses set the pace for the world. Among the famous trotters that came from Rush county were Elsie Good, who sold for \$7500; Ethel, for whom \$10,000 was refused; Kate Hall, who brought \$15,000; Hoosier Tom, pacer, \$1,000, and Richard, the pacer, who sold for \$5000. Any number of pacers and trotters brought fancy prices. An Arrowwood colt, raised in this county, broke a record of 2:05 $\frac{1}{2}$ at Providence, R. I., yesterday, and on every race course in America can be found horses whose ancestors came from Rushville. There is a fine lot of horses here this year, and the races give promise of being the best the Rushville fair has ever had.

Patchen Boy, the celebrated pacer, with a record of 2:10 $\frac{1}{4}$, is here, and with him are eight of his colts. These eight colts have been tried out on the track at Indianapolis, and some of them have gone in the 2:20. An effort will be made to have the entire eight beat the 2:30 mark, and if they do it will be a remarkable performance.

Another remarkable thing about the Rush county fair is that there never was any pool selling permitted on the grounds, nor was the sale of intoxicating liquors allowed. There was gambling about town, but none at the track. This year all gambling at the track and about town has been done away with, and the managers of the fair say they will have a greater attendance this year than for a long time. The Rushville fair is a good answer to the horsemen who are declaring that there must be pool selling and gambling or no one will take any interest, but there are other attractions besides horses.

The floral display and the exhibit of fancy work are first class, and there is a big line of everything that the farmers are interested in. The merchants have good displays also. In the line of amusements, there are a number of clean shows. There are the diving horses, two or three snake eaters and various carnival events.

The Rushville grounds are as good as can be found anywhere. They are nicely shaded and in the center of a grassy hill, from which the racing can be seen. The C. H. & D railway runs special trains to the grounds every ten minutes, and the interurban lines carry their share of people.

All of the Republican politicians of the Sixth Congressional district will be here tomorrow and the next day. The Democratic politicians come here too, but they just look around. There is not much of interest for them in this district.

Fair Notes.

The Summer band furnished the music today.

The sheep show is very light only one or two herds being exhibited.

Len Stevens has entered Last Chance in the 2:18 pace and the 2:25 pace.

George Displanter is here again this year with his toy balloons, whistles, etc.

There are four or five picture galleries and four or five palmists and fortune tellers.

Today's races consisted of the 2:50 pace and the 2:30 trot. There was a large number of starters in both.

E. A. Lee has established a feed store in the west end of the big race barn. J. M. Harold is in charge.

The Glass Palace is proving a great attraction. Inside the pavilion all sorts of glass novelties are manufactured.

The Daily Republican will be issued at noon Thursday in order that the employees of this office may attend the fair.

There was a big attendance at the fair today, considering the fact that it was Wednesday. Tomorrow is the "big day."

The trench for the balloon ascension was constructed yesterday. Prof. Young was scheduled to make his first ascension this evening.

Awards on table luxuries, ladies fancy handiwork and fine art, flowers and shrubbery, poultry, dairy cattle, jacks, mules and draft horses were made today.

There is a fairly good exhibit in the Agricultural hall and some of the fruits and vegetables on exhibition are very fine. Chris King has a fine exhibit of apples.

Ivy Company, U. R. K. of P. which has a stand at the northwest corner of Floral hall reports a good business. John T. Kirkpatrick, G. P. Hunt, Ray Lakin and others are in charge.

Among those who have herds of hogs at the fair are D. O. Alter with his Chester Whites; C. C. Cotton with his Durac Jerseys, and H. E. Midkiff & Son, of Shelbyville, with their Poland Chinas.

The poultry show too is rather light. Among the exhibitors are E. S. Linville, of Shelbyville; John Stine & Co., of Edinburg, Chris King, Lawrence Riwey, George O. Anderson and C. Gentry, of Hartsville, Ind.

The Big Shelby County Blue Ribbon Fair will be held next week at Shelbyville. There are splendid prospects for a fine fair. Many Rushville people attend this fair each year and the usual delegation will go this year.

The Republican has its $300 Chase Piano on exhibition in the Floral hall.

Callaway and Marson, of Cambridge City, are furnishing some very fine music on the piano, accompanied by the trap drum. You should see the piano and judge for yourself concerning its tone construction and finish.

"King" and "Queen", the high diving horses were unable to give an exhibition this afternoon by reason of the fact that the pump by means of which the water was being thrown into the tank broke down and could not be repaired in time to fill the tank.

The exhibits in the Floral hall are very numerous and of high order. The fancy work is a great attraction for the ladies. The culinary exhibit, too, is very good. There is a very large exhibit of paintings, of every description. Miss Rita Johnson has an exhibition some splendid work in oil, pastel, charcoal and pencil. Denning Havens has a good exhibit of pen and ink work. The exhibits of the city's three photographers, Wallace, Marts and Carpenter, are very fine.

FINE TRIBUTE TO PRESIDENT

Mr. Witte Sends Messages:
"History Will Ascribe to You the Glory."

Arrangements For Armistice Between Warring Nations Have Been Concluded.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 30.—The long and bloody war between Japan and Russia is ended. The terms of peace have been settled by Mr. Witte and Baron Komura, and yesterday afternoon preliminary arrangements for an armistice were concluded and the actual work of framing the "Treaty of Portsmouth" was by mutual agreement turned over to Mr. De Martens, Russia's great international lawyer, and Mr. Dennison, who for twenty-five years has acted as the legal advisor of the Japanese foreign office. The treaty is expected to be completed by the end of the week.

This happy conclusion of the conference, which a week ago would have been shipwrecked had it not been for the heroic intercession of President Roosevelt, was sudden and dramatic. For the sake of peace Japan, with the magnanimity of a victor, at the last moment yielded everything still in issue. Russia refused to budge from the ultimatum Emperor Nicholas had given to President Roosevelt through Ambassador Meyer. No indemnity under any guise, but an agreement to divide Sakhalin and reimburse Japan for the maintenance of the Russian prisoners were his last words. They had been repeatedly reiterated in Mr. Witte's instructions and in the form of a written reply to the Japanese compromise proposal of last Wednesday, they were delivered to Baron Komura yesterday.

Mr. Witte went to the conference declaring he was powerless to change the dot of an i or the cross of a t in his instructions. Emperor Nicholas' word had been given not only to him but to President Roosevelt, the head of a foreign state. When Baron Komura therefore first offered the new basis of compromise entailing the complete renunciation of indemnity, coupled with a proposition for the redemption of Sakhalin at a price to be fixed by a mixed tribunal consisting of representatives of the neutral powers, Mr. Witte again returned a non-possumus. It was what Mr. Witte termed in his interview the "psychological moment." Mr. Witte did not flinch. He expected a rupture and, as he expressed it afterward, he was stunned by what happened. Baron Komura gave way on all the disputed points. With the prescience that has enabled the Japanese to gauge the mental processes of their adversaries on the field of battle and upon the sea, they had realized in advance that peace could be obtained in no other way. They had warned their government, President Roosevelt had also, it is believed, advised Japan that it was better to meet the Russian position than to take the responsibility of continuing the war for the purpose of collecting tribute. The mikado at the session of the cabinet and elder statesmen Monday had sanctioned the final concession. When Baron Komura yielded, the rest was mere child's play.

Articles 10 and 11 (interned war ships and the limitation of Russia's power in the far East) were withdrawn. Japan agreed that only that portion of the Chinese Eastern railroad south of Chantfu, the position occupied by Okuma, should be ceded to Japan. Both sides, once the deadlock was broken, wanted a "just and lasting" peace, and in that spirit it was decided to practically neutralize Sakhalin, each country binding itself not to fortify its half of the island, and Japan assuming an obligation not to fortify the La Perouse strait between Sakhalin and Hokkaido, which would bar Russia's commercial route to the Pacific.

The plenipotentiaries went further. They decided to add a new clause in the nature of a broad provision for mutual commercial privileges by which each country will secure for the other the benefit of the "most favored nation" clause and the "open door." The new treaty therefore will be a wonderfully friendly document of character almost to raise the suspicion that the two countries have not negotiated peace, but have concluded the basis of a future alliance. There is, however, no evidence as rumored that any secret clauses are to be appended to the present treaty.

Before leaving the conference building felicitations were exchanged with the president at Oyster Bay. Both Baron Komura and Mr. Witte telephoned. The former confined himself to apprising Mr. Roosevelt of the conditions upon which peace had been concluded. Mr. Witte frankly laid his tribute at the president's feet. In his message he said: "History will ascribe to you the glory," and added the expression of Russia's heartfelt appreciation of the president's "generous initiative." Mr. Roosevelt replied with words of thanks and congratulation.

JESSIE STERRITT PLEADED GUILTY

Unable to Furnish $500 Bond and Went to Jail Until Next Term of Court.

The Greensburg News of Tuesday says: Jesse Sterritt, the Rushville youth, now held at the county jail on a charge of forgery, was taken before Squire Creath this morning and entered a plea of guilty to the charge. He could not furnish a bond of $500 for his appearance in court at the next term and was remanded to jail.

MANY PEOPLE SEE ECLIPSE

And all of Them Today Remark as to Its Uncommon Beauty.

The sun awoke this morning to find a mask over his face for during the night-time the moon had crept in and had placed herself between "Old Sol," and the earth. Seven-tenths of the sun was covered and the other part glittered in the sky like a silvery crescent, enveloped in a ruby mist.

The sunrise occurred at 5:28 this morning, and upon its first appearance it could be seen that the moon was already creeping into the sun's path. The visible part of the sun diminished until 5:35 for at that time the eclipse came to its greatest latitude. The eclipse came to an end at 6:37 for at that time the shadow left the lower end of the sun's disk.

Many Rushville people witnessed the eclipse today, and all remarked as to its uncommon beauty. Six more of these heavenly disturbances will occur in this century, but not all of them will be visible from this side of the globe.

WERE FINED FOR VIOLATING LAW

Harvey Halterman and P. A. Miller Tried in Squire Jackson's Court.

The cases which were filed against Harvey Halterman and P. A. Miller for violating the State liquor law, were tried in Squire Jackson's court this morning.

Halterman was charged with selling liquor without a license and also with selling intoxicants on Sunday. P. A. Miller was charged with the same violations, and also for keeping a gaming house.

Harvey Halterman was convicted in both of the charges preferred against him. He was fined $20 and costs for selling liquor without license, and $10 and costs for keeping the saloon open on Sunday.

P. A. Miller was found not guilty of two of the cases brought up against him, as evidence was lacking to prove his guilt. He was fined $20 and cost, however, for keeping a gaming house. The fines were not heavy and they were paid.

BIG DIVORCE SUIT FILED

Isabell Offutt Sues For Divorce From George Offutt of Arlington.

She Claims Cruel Treatment and That He Cursed Her Repeatedly.

A divorce suit was filed in the Rush circuit court this afternoon in which Isabell Offutt asks legal separation from her husband, George Offutt, a prominent farmer, business man and Democratic leader of Arlington.

The plaintiff charges the defendant of cruel and inhuman treatment. She says that he has repeatedly cursed her, calling her vile names. She furthermore claims that while she was confined to her bed with sickness that he said: "When a person is in the shape you are and have to have a doctor all the time, and have to have some one to nurse you, then you are better off dead than alive." She also claims that he said: "Your father and brother (who are both deceased) are in heaven with other doctors and preachers." Mrs. Offutt says that one time while she was very ill, he said to her, "You are a bird, and look at your old white hair."

The plaintiff claims to have been a faithful wife, and that her husband failed to provide sufficient food, clothing and other necessities of life for her, and that he was stingy and failed to provide medical treatment and proper nursing in her illness.

Mrs. Offutt claims that her husband is a man of wealth; that he has 300 acres of land, well stocked with hogs and cattle, and that he has a large amount of personal property. She claims that Mr. Offutt is worth $50,000, and she asks for $15,000 alimony.

Mr. and Mrs. Offutt were married May 4th, 1904, and they lived together until August 25th of this year. Mrs. Offutt has obtained the services of Watson, Titworth & Green for her attorneys.

MANY ATTEND AILES REUNION

A Fine Dinner and Excellent Time Sunday at Home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wiley.

A reunion of the Ailes family took place Sunday at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Wiley, one mile south of Laurel. James Ailes, of Fairview, and several from this city, were present. There are several members of the family living in Franklin county and all were present with their children, except Joseph, son of James Ailes. A fine dinner was served and the day was most pleasantly passed. Mrs. Wiley, who owns and occupies the farm and home where the Parry brothers, now famous buggy manufacturers, were reared, is a sister of the Ailes man at Lafayette.

The local police have communicated with the Lafayette authorities, but as yet have not heard from them.

The Kinsey Construction company of Terre Haute, which will do the grading for the L & C. extension to Connersville, has begun work in earnest. Yesterday twenty car loads of scrapers, shovels, wagons, mules, horses, men, tents and other equipment arrived at Connersville and Williams Creek, over the C. H. & D. and were at once unloaded. This equipment is being scattered along the right-of-way preparatory to being put to work. Camps for the graders are being erected, and by the first of the week the dirt will be flying between this city and Connersville.

The common cattails which grow in profusion in marshy ground near the water's edge has become a valuable article of Indiana commerce and sells for a cent a pound. The cattails are used as a substitute for wool, cotton and hair for mattresses and upholstery.

CHINA'S AWAKENING

Preparations For Popular Government Now Going Forward.

Pekin, Aug. 30.—The foreign ministers attended a banquet which Prince Chin gave in bidding farewell to the commission starting from China on a tour of the world. The principal object of this mission is to study the parliamentary proceedings of the governments abroad, as the dowager empress intends to issue a decree at the new year for the establishment of a parliament twelve years hence. In the meantime the government will maintain a body of students abroad for the purpose of preparing the country for parliamentary government. The commissioners will spend a month in Japan, proceeding thence to Europe via America. The commission will be accompanied by a large retinue.

Harry Colsher, who has been arrested on the charge of dynamiting fish, was given a preliminary hearing before Mayor Hall today. State Fish Commissioner, Z. T. Sweeney attended the trial and assisted in the prosecution.

When Colsher was placed upon the witness stand he claimed that he did not have anything to do with dynamiting fish. He said that he had dynamite in his possession and that he used the same for making corner post holes. He said that he was at home nearly all day on the third of July, the day on which the dynamiting was done. Colsher's mother and neighbors also claim that the young man was not out of the house for more than an hour on that day.

The prosecution, however, enters testimony to the effect that Colsher was seen wading in the water and gathering up fish at a point where a previous explosion had been heard.

Heaston Litteral claims that he heard an explosion and after running down to the river at a point near the Big Four railroad bridge, saw Colsher gathering dead fish out of the water, and that Colsher told him that he would give him something if he never told anyone about the incident. The same witness also said that after he heard the explosion he saw water raise from the river to a great height.

Theodore Heeb, a clerk in Havens & Riggs hardware store, says that Colsher purchased two sticks of dynamite, six feet of fuse and four caps at the store on July 3. Colsher denies this, but Heeb says the sale is on record on the account books at the store. Other important evidence was introduced by the prosecution, but these statements are denied by Colsher and his friends.

The defense claims that the evidence is only circumstantial and that the person should not be bound over to the circuit court on such testimony, but on the other hand the prosecution claims that the evidence is strong enough to bind Colsher over to the grand jury. Mayor Hall has not as yet given his decision as he said that he wished time to weigh the evidence and to look up certain legal points which are involved in the case.

Mayor Hall gave his decision in the case at 4 o'clock this afternoon. He bound Colsher over to the circuit court with a bond of $100. The bond will be provided as soon as the necessary provisions can be made.

RUSHVILLE, IND., AUG. 30, 1905

Both Europe and Asia are pleased with the roll the United States, through its president, is playing in the peace conference now being held at Portsmouth. England is Japan's ally and France is Russia's friend. Germany has been hostile to Japan from the beginning. The United States is the one great country which could be relied on to be strictly and consistently neutral. And when the government is mentioned in connection with the peace conference, President Roosevelt is meant, for he has no assistants in this matter. The President has been directly and constantly in touch with affairs at the conference. He has had several interviews with the plenipotentiaries on each side in the past two weeks, and that his conduct has been characterized by intelligence, by good feeling toward both sides, and by tact of a rare and admirable order is evinced by the attitude which has been taken by St. Petersburg and Tokio. Never has the United States government played a more creditable part in the world's history than it has enacted at this first great peace gatherings between Europe and Asia.

GENERAL STATE INTEREST

Is Being Manifested in Indianapolis Municipal Campaign.

Indianapolis, Aug. 30.—People throughout the entire state are manifesting unusual interest in the campaign here, the outcome of which will be important to both parties in the state campaign next year. Bookwalter said today he will begin his speaking campaign Sept. 11 or 12. The Republican committee rooms were moved into the When building today and preparations will be made for the opening of the campaign about Sept. 12. Books are being prepared for the taking of the sixty-fourth poll Sept. 7. It will show the extent of the anti-Bookwalter sentiment. The making of the organization for election day will begin as soon as the poll is completed.

A report compiled by State Statistician Stubbs shows that there was an increase of 252 saloons last year over the previous year. In face of the closing of several hundred saloons by remonstrance this showing was unusual. An analysis of the figures for last year by President Ulysses G. Humphrey of the State Anti-Saloon League shows that 57 of the new saloons were in Terre Haute. In that connection he points out that at Terre Haute last year there were 15 murders, all committed near saloons, and all growing out of the use of liquor; 17 arrests for assault and battery with intent to kill; 149 divorces traceable to the use of liquor; and 1,329 imprisonments for drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

Nearly the entire increase is accounted for in a few of the larger cities which bears out the assertions already made, that the great success of the anti-saloon movement up to date has been in the rural communities. It is somewhat significant that the brewers do not seem to be greatly alarmed, however, by the showing the league is making. On the contrary, one of them said today that his company is selling more beer than it did before the league became so active. He pointed out that driving half the saloons of a town out of business merely concentrated the trade in the district where the remaining saloons are located. In one city where there were thirteen saloons last year six were driven out this year by remonstrance, yet his books show that more beer was sold than during the same period last year.

Someone is doing a lot of bluffing at the outset of the local campaign. For instance, Mayor Holtzman in his speech of acceptance warned the people that the re-election of Bookwalter would mean the return of "Bill" Kissell and other gamblers. Today Bookwalter's friends produced evidence to show that Kissell is here now operating a policy game. The Bookwalter man produced a handful of drawing sheets to prove what he said about the play having been resumed. He said that Kissell is operating his game from one of the big down-town office buildings and that Bob Duncan, a negro politician, has another plant. Both have their runners out, he declared, and are not being molested by Mayor Holtzman's police department. The charges were of course denied by the Holtzman men, who say that no gambling is permitted. It looks as if this will be the greatest mud-slinging campaign on record here.

The entry lists of the state fair, which close Friday, show that the exposition will, when it opens on Sept. 11, be full in all departments. The state board of agriculture offered premiums amounting to $30,000 for the fair, there being about 5,000 awards. The heaviest sum is offered on speed, $10,500, and the next highest is on beef and dairy cattle, $7,567. The fair management is going in especially strong for special attractions. Dan Patch will undertake to lower the world's record, which he made himself, on Wednesday of fair week. John Duss, a millionaire bandmaster, will bring his band to the fair from New York for four special concerts.

Senator C. C. Lyons of Fairmount, chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Republican state committee during the last two campaigns, has been appointed deputy in the office of Revenue Collector Neal of the Indianapolis district. The district headquarters will soon be moved from Lawrenceburg here.

Japan's willingness to forego her immense material advantages for the sake of peace is freely recognized throughout the world.

Progress of the Boycott.
Shanghai, Aug. 30.—Chang Chien, who has been ordered by the Pekin ministry to commence to concert measures to settle the boycott, yesterday met the Chinese chairman of commerce and the principal piece goods dealers. He began by fining certain dealers 4,000 taels for alleged breaches of the boycott. He then ordered all to sign an agreement to buy no more American goods from foreign merchants of any nationality. Regarding goods contracted for before the boycott was started, he stated his intention of opening an office and granting passes and stamping such goods, thus permitting their sale in the interior. He also announced his intention of opening offices in thirty-six principal trade centers in China, where goods so stamped will be passed. This will require an initial sum of 200,000 taels, which Shanghai dealers must pay, thus averting impending financial ruin. This means the creation of permanent boycotting machinery, available against any branch of any foreign trade in China.

BUSINESS MEN PROTEST

Officer May Not Taken From Redkey to Logansport.

Redkey, Ind., Aug. 30.—William May, the night patrolman who shot and killed William Purdy, a Pan-Handle detective, of Logansport, last Friday night in the railroad yards at West Main street, was arrested yesterday by the sheriff of Cass county on an affidavit filed by the coroner of that county. It was the intention of the sheriff to take May to Logansport to be present at the coroner's inquest. In thirty minutes, however, all the business men of Redkey arose to the support of May and condemned such proceedings, and a complaint was filed before Justice of the Peace Williamson against May for the killing of Purdy, and he was remanded to jail here without bail to await the action of the Jay circuit court. He was taken to jail at Portland.

It is the unanimous opinion here that Officer May was fully justified in the shooting of Purdy, and it was demonstrated when more than half the citizens of the town agreed to see that May had a fair trial on the scene of the tragedy. The Cass county sheriff left the city without his prisoner.

Goshen Men Held to Answer.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 30.—Asa Taber of this city was arrested by United States Deputy Marshal Wilson on the charge of violating the postal laws. THE Victor's Magnanimity.

Portsmouth, N. H., Aug. 30.—The following statement was issued by Mr. Sato on behalf of the Japanese plenipotentiaries: "The questions of the final disposition of the Island of Sakhalin and the reimbursement to Japan of her war expenses have from the first been issues on which absolute divergence of views existed. The differences of opinion on these points—not one, but both—have frequently threatened the existence of the conference. But his majesty, the emperor of Japan, responding to the dictates of humanity and civilization, in a spirit of perfect conciliation, and in the interest of peace, authorized his plenipotentiaries to waive the question of reimbursement of war expenses and consented to a division of Sakhalin upon terms which are mutually acceptable, thus making it possible to bring the important work of the conference to a successful issue."

Bees May Cause Death.

Boonville, Ind., Aug. 30.—While driving over a country road two miles east of Boonville, James Granstaff and Asa Bacon, farmers, were attacked by a swarm of honey bees and sustained stings from which both may die. They were unconscious when found. Granstaff is in a dying condition, but Bacon is expected to recover. Two horses the farmers were driving also received stings, and one animal died. The other will recover.

AT OYSTER BAY

The President Deeply Gratified by News From Portsmouth.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 30.—In his library at Sagamore Hill, President Roosevelt received the announcement that the Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth had reached an agreement and would proceed at once to conclude the terms of a treaty of peace.

The announcement had not been expected so soon. The president at no time during the negotiations pending had abandoned hope of a successful issue of the conference, but he had realized more clearly than any other one man in the world the enormous difficulties which confronted the envoys in their deliberations. While he had not for a moment relaxed his earnest efforts to induce the conferees to continue their discussions with a view to securing a basis of agreement, he had felt for forty-eight hours that the task he had set for himself in the interest of humanity and civilization was well nigh hopeless. The president's final appeals to St. Petersburg and Tokio had been made. No response had been received from the Orient, but from Peterhof palace had come, in Emperor Nicholas's own words, Russia's ultimatum: "Not a kopeck of indemnity, not a verst of territory."

The situation looked black indeed. The president, however, did not despair. With the final terms of the Japanese government as soon as they should be received from Japan's emperor, he had determined to seek the aid of Emperor William of Germany in support of his proposition that the warring powers submit their points of difference to the arbitrament of an impartial tribunal. Arbitration, in one form or another, had been the president's solution of the difficulty ever since the differences, seemingly irreconcilable, had arisen. To this proposition Japan had acceded. With the powerful influence of the German emperor at Peterhof enlisted, it was hoped that the ground of objection might be cut from beneath the feet of Emperor Nicholas.

This was to be President Roosevelt's supreme effort to insure a "just and lasting peace." While the president did not seek to conceal his gratification that the conference had reached an agreement, he said he was obliged, in the circumstances, to refrain from any formal expression regarding the work accepted until he should have been informed fully as to the details. It can be said, however, that he feels that the successful issue of the conference is a great triumph for humanity and civilization. Such public expression as he may make regarding the work of the conference will be announced after he shall have opportunity to carefully consider it. It is regarded here as likely that the first important work of the conference now that a general agreement has been reached on the main points of difference, will be the framing of a protocol declaring an armistice and providing for the return of prisoners. The negotiation of a permanent treaty of peace, a subject of grave concern to both powers and to the civilian world generally, will be watched with profound interest.

At the conclusion of their labors in the Washington conference, the plenipotentiaries of both Russia and Japan will be received by President Roosevelt, either at Sagamore Hill or at the White House. At that reception there will probably be some important utterances.

Messages of congratulation are pouring in on the president from people both in America and Europe. The great part he has played in the bringing about of the success of the conference and in promoting the interests of civilization is recognized throughout the world, as is indicated by the cordial and wide range covered by the congratulatory epistles.

A GREAT VICTORY

Our State Department Naturally Plumes Itself on the Outcome.

ONE RESULT OF PEACE

The Open Door in Manchuria and the Integrity of China Are Now Doubly Assured.

Army and Navy Likewise Relieved of a Very Tense Situation.

Washington, Aug. 30.—News of the agreement of the peace plenipotentiaries at Portsmouth was received here with surprise, for while the official mind had been in a measure prepared for a successful outcome of the conference, no such speedy action was anticipated. Following closely upon the press bulletins announcing the agreement came a message to Acting Secretary of State Loomis from Third Assistant Secretary Peirce at Portsmouth which may be consequently regarded as official, in these words:

"Russian and Japanese plenipotentiaries agreed upon terms of peace.

Two facts appeared clearly upon the announcement of the news: First, that the state department officials had never entertained any doubt that the conference would reach an agreement, and second, that the militant branches of the government, the army and navy people, were as fully confident that the war would continue indefinitely and to the point of exhaustion of one of the combatants. Now that agreement has been reached, however, both branches of the government service experienced a feeling of relief. The state department realized a great victory in having secured beyond any question the open door in Manchuria which was so dear to the heart of the late Secretary Hay. The territorial integrity of China seems also assured, and with the restoration of the vast Manchurian provinces to the control of the present emperor of China and the dowager empress, it is felt here that there is an end for all time of insidious foreign aggressions upon Chinese soil. With Korea under a Japanese protectorate, developing its great natural resources, and all to be opened to American exploitation on even terms with other nations, a large increase in the foreign market open to our products is expected. For its part the navy will be relieved of the tedious and expensive patrol which it has been maintaining in the Philippines ever since the beginning of hostilities, to guard against the violation of neutrality by the belligerents. Also it will be relieved of the necessity of guarding the Russian interned ships. The Lena, at San Francisco, which came in almost a year ago for refuge and asylum, has been a source of anxiety and international correspondence has been necessary to secure the return of some of the Russian officers of that ship who broke their parole. In the Philippines Admiral Enquist with his three cruisers, Jemochung, Aurora and Oleg, which came into Manila bay, the sad wreck of the once formidable Russian second Pacific squadron. These ships may now, it is supposed, depart for their home ports, although some repairs may be necessary before they may be regarded as seaworthy.

Secretary Bonaparte expressed great satisfaction at the news that peace was said to be assured. He said: "This result of the negotiations at Portsmouth will be a source of happiness to the whole civilized world, and can hardly fail to earn for our own government general approbation and gratitude."

General Bates, acting secretary of war, said he was delighted to learn of the agreement at Portsmouth, especially as he had begun to fear an unfavorable outcome of the negotiations.

COUNTY NEWS

Andersonville.

The people of this locality witnessed a flood on last Thursday evening that was almost as large as the one on Thursday of last May.

Our ex-trustee and partner, while in office gobbled up everything they could get hold of and now they have sued the township (Posey) for the rest.

Miss Katie Linville spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here.

The meeting that was conducted here by Rev. Thomas, of the Flatrock Christian church closed Tuesday night with nine additions; they were baptized by him Monday.

The clover seed crop will not be as good as the farmers had expected for, in this locality.

James Davison, of Nebraska, is visiting his brother John Davison and other relatives here at present.

William Faurote, of Elwood, is visiting Jacob Faurote and other relatives friends here this week.

George and Leroy Barber made a business trip to Rushville Friday.

A large crowd from here attended the celebration at Barbers grove on Saturday.

Joe Colter of Milroy was through here Wednesday enroute for Beuna Vista.

Owing to the hard rains this summer it will take all the work that can be done in the next year to repair the roads.

The teachers of this township are attending Institute at Brookville this week.

Miss Mary Coffey, of Salem, Washington county, is here visiting Miss Zula Davison this week.

The oil well at Beuna Vista was bailed out on last Monday week but nothing certain was brought to light the way the affairs have been conducted it has been a mystery to some people while others can see through the whole thing. The drill was let in the well after they had bailed it out and was taken through the motion for about 40 minutes but of course you can find nothing without drilling the motion don't bring the oil or nothing else, now it is time people should lease their farms while they have a chance, and get a company here that will do the right thing. It is thought that the officers will hold the one we have to put their surface gas in.

AMUSEMENTS

Hay Fever for 27 Years.

Well Known New England Woman Cured of Hay Fever—Cure Was Lasting.

The thousands of discouraged people, who dread the approach of summer because they have hay fever and cannot find any relief from it, will read with interest and gratitude the following statement from Helen R. Williams, of Mansfield, Mass.

"For 27 years, from the month of August until heavy frost, I have been afflicted with hay fever growing worse and worse each year, until of late years I was unable to attend to my work during that period."

"Last summer I fortunately gave Hyomei a trial, and I am happy to say that it entirely cured me, and I have had no occurrence of the disease since."

This letter is only one of many that have come to the proprietors of Hyomei, and the results following this treatment have been so remarkable that it is proposed at the annual convention of hay fever sufferers to recommend Hyomei.

By breathing the germ-killing and healing balsams, of Hyomei, anyone can have at any moment, of the day, either in their home or office a climate like that of the White Mountains.

The complete outfit costs but $1, extra bottles 50 cents. F. B. Johnson & Co. agree to refund the money to any hay fever sufferer who uses Hyomei without benefit.

Despondent Man's Suicide.

Evansville, Ind., Aug. 30.—John Davidson, sixty-six years old and for forty years employed as a mechanic in the Evansville & Terre Haute railroad shops, this city, committed suicide by shooting himself. A stroke of paralysis resulted from his nervous condition, incident upon the loss of his position, caused by a reduction in the shop force, which left him helpless and despondent. He leaves a wife and two married daughters.

Russian Advance Checked.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The news came as an electric surprise, as official and diplomatic circles had been practically without hopes of peace all during the day. A Russian official of high standing says: "The result attained at Portsmouth kills Russia in the far East. Our long years of effort and the expenditure of vast sums are practically lost to us from today. We give up Manchuria and retain a useless icebound port. It is a very hard blow and will assuredly effectually stop our growth in the far East for years, maybe for generations to come."

LARGE AUDIENCE AT OPERA HOUSE

The Play of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde is Acted in Masterly Manner.

The play of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," as acted by the Cutter Stock Company Tuesday night, was one of the best ever seen in the city opera house. The unusually large audience for the second night of a fair week engagement, was held in breathless suspense from the time the play started until the fall of the curtain at the last of the fifth act.

W. H. Hartigan, who played the part of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, is considered by many to be the strongest actor ever seen on the local stage. To act his part correctly he would at one moment appear as a sane, good-hearted man, but the next instant without even leaving the stage, he would appear as an insane wretch, whose fiendish desire was to kill everything which came in his path. So completely could he change his appearance that in an instant he would be unknown as the character seen on the stage only a moment before. Medical men who attended the play say that Mr. Hartigan's actions as an insane fiend were so natural as to appear real. His cat-like movements, his appearance and his trembling voice, reflecting the agony of a blotted soul, brought forth from the audience such loud applause as to be heard squares away from the opera house. There is a tendency among most actors to overdo the portraying of a character of this kind. This can not be said of Mr. Hartigan.

The part of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde has been played in some of the largest theatres in America by some of the world's famous actors. Richard Mansfield and many others have portrayed the same character and people who have heard these men play the part, say that Mr. Hartigan is in the same class in portraying this character.

The specialties were good and highly entertaining. The advance seat sale is very heavy for "The Power of the Church," which is to be played tonight.
